

signantly. He then accused Hinton of writing false reports, referring to the letter.

Hinton replied that the letter had been published without his consent, but that its contents evidently had been exaggerated. Farrell then went into another room to apologize to Mrs. Williams for his language. While he was gone, it is said Hinton declared his remark about exaggeration was made only for Farrell's benefit.

Best Spraying. Farrell returned. More words passed between the officers. Then Farrell took off his coat and struck Hinton on the jaw. Hinton was sent sprawling over a table. At this juncture newspaper men and others in the room stepped between the men.

The men left the cabin separately.

ly and went to a special train waiting on a siding to take them to Cochrane.

Claiming that he had been "double-crossed," in regard to the writing of letters for publication, Farrell said:

Claims "Double-Cross." "I wrote a letter to Frank Bent, commissioner of contracts of New York city, and he (Hinton) asked me to write on it that it was not to be published."

He added that Bent was an intimate friend and evidently had done as requested. He said he thought Hinton and Kloor wrote their letters under the same agreement.

The balloons will remain here until tomorrow afternoon as guests of W. B. Way, divisional superintendent of the Canadian National railway, whose private car has been placed at their disposal.

Stop in Toronto. This time of departure has not been announced, en route to New York the party will make only one stop, Toronto, where they will be guests of Mayor Church and the Rotary club of Toronto at luncheon.

They will arrive in Toronto about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Lieutenant Farrell said tonight that there was a great deal of "gossiping" among his companions and himself during the three days they were lost in the woods above Moose Factory. He claimed he was in better physical condition than either of his comrades, and at night he would lie on the exposed side of Hinton to keep him warm.

"As a matter of fact," Farrell said, "I could have licked both of them, and could do it now, in this room."

Farrell said he held no grudge against Kloor, who during the day in the bush, he said, had remarked that he did not want to die, as he had "too much to live for."

The party left Moose Factory December 18, instead of December 27, as they had intended.

Used Snow Shoes. During the first three days travelling down the Missinabi all three officers rode on the sleds because they were fatigued from their earlier experiences, Farrell said.

When they felt fully rested, he continued, they took turns in mushing along with the Indians. They had been initiated into the secrets of the snow shoe while at Moose Factory and got along fairly well, but were rather "used up" when time came to make camp.

They were caught in a snowstorm the first Sunday on the trail and were forced to pitch camp after travelling but one mile. Eight days down the Missinabi their dogs began to show signs of fatigue, and men were sent back to Moose Factory for others. They were well provisioned and Moose meat formed a part of their daily ration.

Meet Correspondents. The officers, Lieutenants Louis A. Kloor, Jr., of New Orleans; Walter Hinton, of Bell Harbor, N. Y., and Stephen A. Farrell, of New York, found a corps of newspaper men waiting to greet them when they entered this settlement at 2:30 p. m. The aeronauts were met by Trooper Louis McLaughlin, of the Royal Canadian mounted police, who handed them a bundle of government dispatches from Washington.

There was not the slightest effort to place the Americans under technical arrest because of their alleged violation of international air regulations by landing in Canada without due formality.

Denies Suicide Story. The first thing that Lieutenant Kloor did upon his arrival was to make a flat denial of the statement credited to Lieutenant Hinton that Lieutenant Farrell had offered his life in an effort to save his companions. The story had it that Farrell, worn out, had offered his body to his hungry fellow aviators as food.

Lieutenant Kloor, however, declared that during the days they were wandering in the woods near Moose Factory their only food had been carrier pigeons.

Two Pigeons Eaten. There were three of these birds attached to the party and two of them were eaten by the officers. Lieutenant Kloor said. The third bird was sent out by the airmen from Moose Factory with a message to Rockaway Point. Lieutenant Kloor said on reaching here.

"The NC-4 adventure was nothing to this trip," Lieutenant Hinton declared. "It had been the greatest adventure of his life."

Lieutenant Kloor declared he would rather cross the Atlantic on a seaplane five times than make another journey such as the one which terminated here this afternoon.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM DANIELS. Washington, January 11.—Secretary Daniels, of the navy, on receiving word of the safe return to Matlice of the naval aviators addressed to them the following message:

"Warmest congratulations. News of your safety received with immense relief. The navy is proud of its intrepid air force which you and your companions so well represent."

FATTED PIG AWAITED WANDERER. Crowley, La., January 11.—Louis A. Kloor, father of Lieutenant Kloor, one of the three naval aviators whose arrival at Matlice, Ont., was announced today, closed his grocery store shortly after he received the news and killed a fatted young pig, which will be prepared as part of a feast which will welcome the young officers to his home.

Lieutenant Kloor, who was a student at the Tulane university when the war broke out, joined the navy and was sent to the naval airplane station at Pensacola, and was later transferred to the balloon division.

Big Fire in Lexington. Lexington, Ky., January 11.—A big fire was raging in the retail district on West Main street here this afternoon. The department store of Wolf, Wile & Co. has been wrecked and the stores of the J. D. Purcell company and the Kaufman Clothing company are burning.

GEORGIAN CALLER AT HARDING HOME

Charles Barrett, President of Farmers' Union, Discusses Portfolio of Agriculture With President-Elect.

Marion, Ohio, January 11.—President-elect Harding's cabinet selections now hinge upon so many uncertain elements that some of his confidants believe he may postpone the announcement of all but one appointment until just before inauguration.

The one place regarded as most likely to be scratched off the doubtful list in the near future is that of secretary of state, for which Charles Evans Hughes, of New York, is still said to be uppermost in Mr. Harding's mind. It is understood, however, that no definite word has reached here that Mr. Hughes will accept, and so that appointment, too, may be delayed.

Appointment of a secretary of agriculture was discussed by the president-elect with Charles Barrett, of Georgia, president of the Farmers' union, and said to be a supporter of Henry Wallace, of Iowa, for the place. Mr. Barrett also gave advice regarding an agricultural policy.

The Mexican situation is being watched closely by President-elect Harding and some of those in his confidence believe recognition of the new Mexican government may be one of his first acts as president.

BODY OF GEORGIAN, CAPTAIN WILLIAMS, SHIPPED TO ATHENS

Washington, January 11.—(Special.)—Senator Harris is informed by the war department, in response to inquiries of friends in Georgia, that the body of Captain Jewett Williams, recently returned from France, will leave the army docks at Hoboken, N. J., on Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, en route for Athens, Ga., where the interment will take place. Captain Williams was the first man in the eighty-second division to be killed in action, and served as a minister before entering line duty at the outbreak of the war.

His wife, Mrs. Eleanor Barrow Williams, is the daughter of Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia.

Macon, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—The body of Captain Jewett Williams, well-known Georgian, who was one of the first young men from this state to make the supreme sacrifice in France, will arrive in Athens Friday morning, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Kitty Jewett Williams, of Macon, today.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced, but it is understood that the body will be shipped by train to Athens, where it will be received by the family and the American Legion post of the University of Georgia will name the H. Jewett Williams post in honor of Captain Williams, and will take part in the funeral exercises.

ATLANTA TO HAVE RAIN WEDNESDAY, SAYS FORECASTER

Rain Wednesday, likewise Thursday, with the assurance doubly sure about Wednesday, and not quite certain about Thursday, was the weather prediction given out by C. F. von Herrmann, forecaster, Tuesday, after a day that had behaved itself until the afternoon, when it began to cloud up.

"Not only that," said Mr. von Herrmann, continuing to predict, just as if he hadn't delivered enough bad news in the last few days, "but you may look for the mercury to ease itself down below the freezing mark Friday, where it will hang for a few frigid hours."

GOVERNOR PARDONS TWENTY-FOUR MORE

Little Rock, Ark., January 11.—Governor Brough, on the last day of his term but one, today issued twenty-four pardons or commutations of sentence, bringing the total number of cases in which he has extended executive clemency during his four years as governor to 1,246.

Back to the Republic

THE United States of America is a republic. Georgia is a sovereign state. Let us keep that firmly fixed in our minds.

Facts and Law

The State Railroad Commission fixed the present gas rate.

We have told you that we are losing more than $1,000 a day under the present gas rate.

We have told you the facts about costs of coal, oil and labor, etc., being greater than the revenue we receive.

We have told you of much higher rates in other cities.

We have told you gas improvements and gas extensions must stop that the gas plant will break down unless a just rate for gas is authorized. All this company has ever asked for and is now asking is just rates; that is, rates that will pay a reasonable return on the fair value of the property used in public service.

The State Railroad Commission, in an opinion handed down September 22, 1920, said:

"The utility is entitled to such rates as, with capable management, will afford it a reasonable return upon the fair value of its property used in the public service.

"This commission is bound by law. Its duty, in a rate case, is plainly defined in the law. The highest courts of the country have construed the law, and these deliverances must be observed and followed by commission."

"The act of the General Assembly of Georgia, creating this commission, requires it to make just and reasonable rates."

What we ask are just and reasonable rates.

The best interest of the people and the public utility cannot be safely guarded by less than just rates.

The people should urge upon the commission the necessity for just rates. The people should uphold the law.

The people and the public utility should work together to secure just rates, based upon the facts and the law.

GOVERNMENT QUILTS AS RESOURCES END

London, January 11.—The Austrian government has announced to the entente that it is at the end of its resources and no longer is in a position to continue, according to a report which has reached official German quarters, says a London Times dispatch from Berlin. The government has declared its intention to retire January 15 and place the administration of the country in the hands of the reparations commission, the dispatch adds.

COMMITTEE ENDS TARIFF HEARINGS ON FORDNEY BILL

Many Amendments Asked to Emergency Measure Designed as Protective for Agricultural Interests.

HARD FIGHT FORESEEN ON FLOOR OF SENATE

Opponents of Measure, Vigorous in Denouncement, Plan to Use Every Available Means to Defeat or Delay Bill.

Washington, January 11.—Hearings on the Fordney emergency tariff bill were concluded by the senate finance committee tonight after another day of appeals, either to be excluded or included, had opened up what supporters of the measure feared and opponents hoped would be the means of adding amendments to the bill as it passed the house.

Senators McCumber, of North Dakota, and La Follette, Wisconsin, republican members of the committee, at the conclusion of the hearings, announced they had statements to make relative to the subject matter of the tariff. These will be read at a session Thursday, when, it was indicated, several other senators would also declare their attitude. Mr. McCumber's statement will concern the wheat duty, he said, and Mr. La Follette said his would be with respect to cheese, in which the bill provided no additional protection.

Expect Hard Fight.
The close of the hearings brought indications of a concentration of an effort among opponents of the bill, and the turbulence with which some of them discussed the question was accepted to mean they would go far in their fight to defeat the measure, which is designed as an aid to farmers.

Lengthy Amendment.
Another senator, it was reported, was prepared to introduce an amendment which would amend the bill to modify the nation's laws and to demand that this amendment be read. It is recurrent of sufficient length to keep reading clerks busy for two weeks.

Efforts also are being made on behalf of sugar growers, dairy interests and other agricultural groups to have their respective products included in certain products omitted from the house bill. Representatives of the committee today, asked for duties on imported fresh and condensed milk and butter. Growers of live stock asked that frozen carcasses of all kinds be subject to an import levy, and cane sugar producers of Louisiana likewise urged protection against what they feared would be ruinous price reductions in the future.

MERIDIAN VOTES CITY OWNERSHIP OVERWHELMINGLY

NEGROES FLOCK TO GAINESVILLE

Serious Economic Situation Caused in Hall County Town as the Result of Anonymous Notices.

The critical racial situation which has obtained in northern portions of Hall county since last Friday when notices that no negro would be permitted to remain "north of the Chattahoochee in Hall county" were anonymously served by hand and through the mails upon negro residents has steadily grown worse according to dispatches received from Gainesville Tuesday night. The number of negro refugees who have come into Gainesville for protection is estimated as running well up into the hundreds. The stream of feeding and housing has become serious. Trouble within the town is feared unless prohibitive measures are taken shortly.

CURCULIO PEACH PEST TO BE INVESTIGATED

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.
Washington, January 11.—Responding to the request of Senator William J. Harris at a conference with Secretary Meredith, of the department of entomology, he sent to Upson county, Georgia, to investigate the blight on peaches as a pest of peaches, the secretary outlined the department's plan to investigate the pest. Secretary Meredith outlined the plan in a letter to Senator Harris, saying: "I beg to advise that representatives of the bureau of entomology recently visited Thomson in connection with a mass meeting of fruit growers, which time a campaign of curculio suppression was presented for that section. A local committee was appointed, through which the department representatives at Fort Valley can work, which plan is being followed in numerous other parts of the state. We believe this arrangement will be satisfactory and is about all that citizens can do at present. Since, as you know, the money requested of congress for this work is not yet available, the bureau of entomology will do everything possible to make available funds to improve the curculio situation in Georgia and in securing the active co-operation of the growers in the investigation and work of this character will result in greatly improving the situation as respects the 1921 crop of fruit."

POLICE BOARD PROBES TREATMENT OF WOMAN

Instructed to prefer charges against the former detective, the chief of police today received a letter from G. Battle, seeking to exonerate City Detective Oscar M. Battle from a charge of kidnapping. The letter, which was received by the chief of police, stated that Battle had been implicated in an alleged attempt to "plant" whiskey in an automobile belonging to Battle, was read to the board. On motion of Mayor Key the letter was filed and the investigation into the matter urged.

King's Resolution.
His resolution, which was passed, follows: "Resolved, That a certain Mrs. Cohen was a few days ago arrested on Whitehall street by a private detective and taken to the police station in the city of Atlanta in the city's police patrol and detained in the matron's ward until released. Whereas, it has been stated through the newspapers and in the recorder's court of the city that she was subjected to certain indignities and mistreatment while being detained by the city authorities; and, Whereas, an effort has been made in making these statements to her mistreatment to reflect upon the police department of the city, and it appears that such charges should not go unmet, but an effort should be made to arrive at the truth of such charges;

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the board of police commissioners of the city of Atlanta that an investigation be had of these charges by the board, and if the charges be found true, to take such steps as may be necessary to prevent a recurrence of such treatment of those arrested, and if the same are not true, to exonerate those upon whom such charges would tend to reflect.

WOMAN INDICTED AS SHOPLIFTER

Mrs. Caroline M. Cohen, matron at Fort McPherson, was indicted on two separate charges of larceny from the house by the Fulton county grand jury Tuesday, as the result of charges made by Vic Young, special detective employed by the Retail Merchants' association, that she took merchandise from a Whitehall street store. Seven witnesses appeared before the jury. Mrs. Cohen was indicted under several alleged aliases.

The indictments are the latest developments in a series of sensational events revolving around the arrest of Mrs. Cohen last Wednesday by Vic Young. Following her arrest, she alleges that she was detained at the police station and not allowed to use the telephone to communicate with her friends; that she was falsely arrested and subjected to indignities at police headquarters.

The number of negro refugees who have come into Gainesville for protection is estimated as running well up into the hundreds. The stream of feeding and housing has become serious. Trouble within the town is feared unless prohibitive measures are taken shortly.

Appeals for aid have come to Governor Hugh M. Dorsey from white people of Hall county. Governor Dorsey declined to make any statement relative to the matter, on Tuesday night, beyond the fact that he is now investigating the situation as brought to his attention.

Critical Economic Situation.
Statements made by prominent citizens of Gainesville and vicinity indicate that a critical economic situation is resulting from the attempt to drive out all negro labor. The Gainesville and Northwestern railroad has been handicapped by the loss of all negro employees. Two large lumber mills, one a million-dollar concern, are operating under armed guards in an effort to retain negro employees. Several farmers have armed their tenants with shotguns and maintain regular patrols, while others are cripples by the resulting labor shortage.

According to statements made by citizens of Gainesville, a Constitutional reporter Tuesday night trouble 1920 when a negro was caught stealing a washpot from his employer's home. The negro was "shot up" by unknown parties. The antagonism and prejudice increased daily leading to the burning of negro lodges and homes throughout that portion of the county.

R. M. BALDWIN HELD ON KIDNAPING CHARGE

R. M. Baldwin, a trap drummer for the Georgia Railway and Power company, who was returned to Atlanta following his arrest in Knoxville, Tenn., upon a charge of kidnaping his little daughter, was held in the city court today for a charge of kidnapping several years ago. In the case, Baldwin's parents live at 402 Fullam street.

VION REACHES ATLANTA ON HIS ANNUAL VISIT

Joe Vion, former manager of the Grand theater, and a showman who modestly admits that he has brought more good shows to Atlanta than any other living mortal, arrived in the city last night.

Mr. Vion, after considerable questioning on the part of the reporters who flocked to his hotel as soon as they heard of his arrival, revealed the fact that he was here as the harbinger of a forthcoming theatrical attraction. With considerable reluctance he finally admitted that he was the forerunner of "Mary," the greatest musical comedy ever staged. "Isn't it a grand old name?" asked Joe and the chorus of newspaper men answered, "Sure."

MOOSE OFFICIALS ARRIVE IN CITY

The supreme council of the Loyal Order of Moose will arrive in Atlanta at 7:55 o'clock Wednesday morning. The trip is being made here by the supreme council to consider the feasibility of establishing in the vicinity of Atlanta an institution for aged members and orphans.

The party of visitors will include Supreme Dictator Darius A. Brown, Kansas City, Mo., and the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber of commerce will take the visitors by automobile to suggested sites for the proposed home. At 12:30 o'clock they will be entertained at the hotel by the chamber of commerce.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon Supreme Dictator Brown will deliver a free lecture at the Auditorium on "The Men and Women of Tomorrow."

Colonel G. T. E. Hardeman, assistant supervising federal prohibition agent for the gulf district, who is in charge of the prohibition department offices in the absence of Supervisor D. J. Gantt, stated late Tuesday night that to his knowledge no instructions have yet been received from Washington or any other source ordering a probe of the Mercer-Stewart controversy.

NEGROES ATTEMPT TO DERAIL TRAIN; JAILED IN DUBLIN

Dublin, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Three negro boys, Clarence Freeman, 13, Herschel Lawrence, about 17 years old, and Jerry Lee Williams, 14, are in jail here on a charge of attempting to wreck the Wrightsville and Tennille passenger train yesterday afternoon near Brewton, Laurens county. The engineer saw a pile of angle bars on the track as he neared the 31-mile post and endeavored to stop, but could not do so. Before he reached the obstruction, however, the speed had been slowed to the extent that the bars were hit so easily that no damage was done and a wreck was averted.

Supervisor Burgess was on the train and got off to investigate, hiding in the engine where the boys were found. He soon saw three negroes coming up cautiously, apparently to see what had happened. He began talking with them and they asked them several questions and found out their names. This morning they were arrested, and after reaching jail, the Freeman negro made a confession. Sheriff Watson stated, admitting they put the bars on the track to see what would happen when he train hit them.

Stewart Will Need Several Lawyers, Says Prohi Director
"Mayor Stewart will probably need several lawyers before the matter is finally wound up."

That was the statement made Tuesday afternoon by James A. Fort, federal prohibition director for the state of Georgia, when interviewed by a Constitution reporter in connection with the report that Mayor Murray Stewart of Savannah, had employed a lawyer in his controversy with Secretary McRae, federal prohibition officer.

The battle of words which has raged in Savannah for the past few weeks between Officer Mercer and Savannah's chief executive grew out of charges by the federal official that city police are in the employ of the bootlegging fraternity.

Mr. Mercer reiterated his charges in an address Sunday night in the Second Baptist church in Savannah to a "Good Citizenship" meeting.

During his address he declared that because police officials were constantly increasing their demands for tribute the bootleggers of the city were on the verge of a revolt.

He also repeated his charges in a reported interview Sunday night.

CITY WINS VERDICT IN PAVEMENT SUIT

Georgia Railway and Power Company May Appeal Lee Street Case.

The city of Atlanta won its court fight against the Georgia Railway and Power company to force the latter to repair Lee street between the car tracks, when a jury found a verdict in favor of the plaintiff Tuesday morning in the superior court. The case has attracted much attention and has been on trial before Judge John T. Pendleton for the past week. The pavement in question is between Park street and McCall's crossing on Lee street and constitutes a strip about sixteen feet wide.

Just before the verdict, which was directed by Judge Pendleton, was returned, counsel for the power company made a motion to nonsuit the city's case. The motion was overruled by the court.

The question of repairing the street has been a subject of controversy between city council and the power company for some time. The city claimed that the power company was liable for the cost of repairing the pavement between its tracks, while the company insisted that the ordinance of 1902 relieved it of all financial responsibility.

Attorneys for the power company indicated Tuesday that the case would be appealed.

City Attorney James L. Mayson and Attorney Jesse N. Wood appeared for the municipality, while the firm of Colquitt & Coopers represented the power company.

REV. J. W. HAM WILL SPEAK IN DECATUR

Mr. Ham's address will be delivered in the parlors of Mrs. John Thompson, 524 Church street, Decatur.

MANY PETITIONS ARE PRESENTED TO COMMISSION

The state railroad commission was engaged in a busy session Tuesday hearing petitions of a number of public service corporations coming under its jurisdiction.

The application of the Montezuma Telephone company to establish new long distance call rates between it and the Southern Bell Telephone company occupied the morning session of the board.

It was contended by the Montezuma company that the Southern Bell offered a contract providing the small company should receive 22.4 per cent of the revenue of long distance calls originating within the territory of the latter. This revenue is insufficient, it was stated, to pay the salary of the toll operator.

Other cases heard during the day

by the commission were as follows:

Petition of the Central of Georgia railroad to discontinue free switching charges at Americus to the plant of the Farmers' Cotton Oil company; petition of the carriers of Georgia to establish a uniform weight of five pounds on brick; petition of the Southern railway to discontinue an agency station at Topeka Junction; complaint of the Lewis-Clitty company of Jacksonville, Fla., against passenger rates charged from Folkston to Jesup on the Atlantic Coast line.

Cases on the docket today are: Petition of the Athens Gas Light company for permission to increase rates; petition of the Wrightsville and Tennesse railroad for permission to change passenger schedules and service; petition of the Tallulah Falls railroad to discontinue an agency station at Rabun Gap.

ATTACK LEGALITY OF LAW CREATING BARBERS' BOARD

Judge John T. Pendleton has signed a supercedas order requiring the State Board of Barber Examiners to deposit all moneys collected in a local bank, to remain there until the supreme court shall determine the constitutionality of the state law making it necessary for barbers to procure a license before practicing their trade.

Several days ago G. E. Cooper and others filed a petition for a temporary injunction against R. E. Collins, et al. comprising the State Board of Barber Examiners, in which it was claimed the law creating the board was not uniform and was unfair—that it gave the examiners arbitrary power to decline or permit an application and that there is no appeal from their decision.

Judge George L. Bell dismissed the petition following a hearing and an appeal was taken to the supreme court.

The bill of exceptions was filed by Attorneys Roy Lewis and J. L. Anderson, who represent the plaintiffs. Attorneys Bond Almond, J. A. Miller and Branch & Howard are counsel for the board of examiners.

Thousands of Married Folks Are Nervous Wrecks—Leading A Regular "Cat and Dog" Life

As a result of the devitalizing weakness caused by PALE, THIN, WATERY BLOOD—without ever suspecting the real cause of their trouble—IRON STARVATION.

Thousands of married people are CROSS, CRABBED AND GRUMPY, with each other all the while—READY TO FLY OFF at the slightest thing when it is their fault at all. IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD has sapped their nerve force and left them nervous wrecks so that they have no control of themselves and they therefore "GO ALL TO PIECES" on the slightest provocation.

A New York Physician says that MORE THAN ONE-HALF THE POPULATION OF AMERICA PERISHES BEFORE MIDDLE AGE and that one of the chief contributory causes of this terrible waste of human life is the devitalizing weakness brought on by lack of iron in the blood.

THERE ARE 30,000,000,000 RED BLOOD CORPUSCLES IN YOUR BLOOD AND EACH ONE MUST HAVE IRON.

An enormous number of people who ought to be strong, vigorous and in the prime of life are constantly complaining of weak nervous headaches, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, heart palpitation, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., when the real cause of all their suffering is in many cases nothing more or less than IRON STARVATION OF THE BLOOD.

The proof of this is shown by the fact that when organic iron is supplied to their blood, that all their multitude of symptoms almost quickly disappear and the very men and women who were formerly so complaining now become strong, healthy and vigorous with new dispositions and a sunny cheerful nature. When your blood is starving for iron, no mere tonic or stimulants can put you right—starving blood must have iron. Iron is the same as a starving person must have food. Without iron your blood loses its power to change food into living tissue and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of strength. If you do not get the full strength out of it, Nature gets plenty of iron in the hunk of grain and the skin and peels of vegetables and fruits to enrich your blood. But modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase, in recent years, in anæmia (iron-starvation of the blood with all its attendant ills).

If you are not willing to go back to nature then you should eat more such iron-containing vegetables as spinach and carrots and reinforce them by taking a little organic iron from time to time.

But be sure the iron you take is organic and not metallic iron which people usually take. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron and is therefore an entirely different thing from organic iron. Organic iron is the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and apples. It may be had from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron represents organic iron in such a highly condensed form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. To prove to yourself what Nuxated Iron will do, get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a blood count of your red blood corpuscles, then take Nuxated Iron for a month and have a new "blood count" and see how your red blood corpuscles have increased, how much power and richer your blood has become, how much more robust and vigorous you feel; see how the color has come back to your cheeks, how much steadier and stronger your nerves now are. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. At all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD, GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

CARNEGIE LIBRARY AWARDED $76,419

Entire Sum Asked For by Department Granted by the Finance Committee. Will Employ More Assistants.

Not an item in the 1921 budget of the Carnegie library submitted to the council finance committee Tuesday afternoon was refused, and the entire appropriation of $76,419 requested for the institution was unanimously voted into the sheet. This is an increase of $10,916 over last year, $65,503 of which will be spent to employ additional assistants and other help.

The Carnegie library now enjoys the unique distinction of being the only large department of the city government to receive from the finance committee every cent it asked.

Nearly seventy-five women, in addition to officers of the library and trustees of the library board, were members of the delegation that appeared before the committee in behalf of the institution. Miss Tommie Dora Barker, librarian, and W. W. Orr, trustee, presented to the finance committee in detail the situation confronting the library. After hearing the speakers and examining the budget which Miss Barker laid before it, the committee agreed that the increase asked for was reasonable and necessary.

The committee voted, in addition, to insert in the tentative sheet the sum of $6,500 to purchase a lot and building on Boulevard avenue, in the fifth ward, and renovate the building for a branch library. Establishment of this branch was urged by Councilman J. A. Couch, of the fifth ward, who has already entered into negotiations looking toward purchase of the property.

Following an urgent appeal from Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of Georgia Tech, in which he described the desperate financial condition of the school, the committee doubled its appropriation toward the maintenance of the institution for 1921, making the tentative appropriation for Georgia Tech $38,000 in addition to the customary aid of $6,000 for the Tech Night school.

Waterworks Department.
At the afternoon session W. Zode Smith, superintendent of waterworks, laid the claims of his department before the committee, and with minor exceptions, they were granted. The committee put in the sheet $15,000 for the erection of a new fireproof building to replace the frame shed which now houses trucks and other valuable equipment at the river station; $19,257.50 went in to take care of water supply connections on Spring street, which the county is paying; $18,606 for the purchase and installation of a new boiler at the pumping station; $9,322.68 to complete the water main at McCally's crossing; purchase of additional land and buildings at Hemphill station, $10,000; purchase of auto truck, $3,200, and $800 to paint fire hydrants, they were granted.

Just before adjournment the committee took up a proposition by Aldine Chambers to buy from the city the steam going to waste at the crematory. Mr. Chambers offered to pay $11 million per hundred pounds for the steam delivered at the plant, taking a daily minimum of 150,000 pounds, the maximum to reach as high as 500,000 pounds.

Plan Viewed Favorably.
His proposal was viewed favorably by the committee and a committee composed of Chairman Seawright, Councilman W. D. Hoffman and Councilman Claude Ashley was appointed to confer with Mr. Chambers and the city attorney and prepare a contract to be submitted at a subsequent meeting of the finance committee. Mr. Chambers declared that acceptance of his proposition would mean an annual income to the city from the sale of the steam of between $40,000 and $50,000. He will ask the city for a franchise on the streets and plans to sell the steam for heating purposes.

At the morning session officials of the health, hospital, fire and police departments discussed their respective budgets before the committee. Chief Beavers asked that twenty additional patrolmen and six new automobiles be added to the department of police. Rev. J. W. Ham also spoke on the needs of the police force, asking that twenty-eight additional patrolmen be authorized and that the detective department be increased to fifty men.

The committee finally agreed to authorize the addition to the force of twelve patrolmen at a salary of $115 a month each, and to appropriate $3,000 for the purchase of new automobiles. The chief, assistant chiefs, captains and lieutenants were laid aside for the present.

For City Vaccination.
The finance committee authorized the appropriation of $9,000 to defray the expenses of a general city vaccination against smallpox. The committee also tentatively authorized the expenditure of $10,000 for the eleventh ward fire engine house and of $12,750 for the purchase of an auxiliary pump for the fire department. Other small increases in the original budget were granted by the committee.

Steve R. Johnson, superintendent of Grady hospital, presented his budget to the committee. The committee appropriated several thousand dollars in addition to his tentative budget for increased salaries, and added to the tentative sheet $15,000 for equipping the old Emory university buildings, which will be added to the Grady hospital unit in June.

This morning officials of the sanitary and streets departments are scheduled to be heard and this afternoon those of the dairy and farm. Other representatives of the public will be heard from today also.

Athens Road Contracts.

The successful bidder was the Hagedorn Construction company, of Montgomery, Ala., the bid being $1.70 per square yard. The total amount of approximately $150,000 work will be commenced within the opening of the spring and it is expected that it will be rushed through before the close of the summer.

Hotel for LaGrange.
LaGrange, Ga., January 11.—(Special.)—Secretary J. A. Perry, of a local company, which is promoting a new hotel for LaGrange, has stated that the plans for this project are now in process of revision by Architect W. L. Stoddard, of New York city, and that the same will be passed upon by the company building committee about the middle of this month.

EVERY WOMAN delights in the coming of Spring, and the first harbingers of this charming season are the Suits and Frocks rather than the Robins, for now, before the north wind has ceased its blowing, before the Robin would dare venture into our midst, some of the most delectable and wonderful creations of the New Mode have come to us bringing visions of blue skies, green leaves and the fascinating colorings with which Mother Earth clothes her world. Platinum and Copper reign side by side as monarchs of the color card, combined with darker colors and shades these two, especially Platinum in a variety of soft grey shadings are decidedly charming.

In one Suit in particular the platinum strands have been cunningly fashioned into an embroidered motif that gleams against a background of Navy Blue.

Most of the new Suits are strictly tailored. Some have deep sashes after the Spanish fashion and are very smart. Many are braided in a unique and effective cross bar fashion, narrow braidings that give a swagger touch. And instead of the Vest, Dame Fashion decrees for Suits this Spring a Camisole without. Very simple and easy to wear and very chic.

Gabardines in the soft, Platinum Shadings are to be seen in the Suits as well as tricelines and twills and there is a Plaid Velour, for sports wear, and for practical street wear as well, which is very charming.

In Dresses! Well here we falter, for the creations of Lanvin and other master designers seem beyond expression this Spring. Groping back into the past for inspiration one designer has caught the spirit of the 60's and has made a frock in Changeable taffeta that might have been worn by any Southern Belle at some stately dance.

A Copper and Black Frock has about it an exotic suggestion of the Orient, and yet it is seemly and more than smart. Uniquely embroidered and with applique designings it has a lure for the woman who dares to wear something distinctive and different.

A Dainty Grey Dress, the motif of which is Forget-Me-Nots, is also different, but very demure. A wonderful Frock for a dinner-dance.

Taffetas with Crystal and Bugle Beads, one with a Front Pannier of applique net in medallion designs has too, a touch of the Orient and is fascinating.

An Ultra Smart Dinner Gown for the Matron. Heavily beaded with long, bugle beads, a Lanvin Model combining Lace Net and Black Charmeuse to excellent advantage.

All in all this advance showing of Spring styles is quite complete. All of the moment's moods are here in one form or another, in Suit or in Frock.

You will be delighted to see these manifestations of Fashion and you will be very welcome.

'Gentle Grafters' Series Surpassed By Swindle Gang

Father-in-Law and Son-in-Law Are Now Regretting Little Sojourn in Land of Flowers.

he had bought as an investment, but which up to date hadn't realized him anything but taxation.

"Where is your property?" asked Mr. Howard. "Perhaps I can find a buyer for you." The location of the property and the name of the owner being given, both alighted in Atlanta in an excellent frame of mind.

After some few weeks had elapsed a telegram was received from Mr. Howard. It stated that a purchaser for the property had been found. The Atlanta could meet him at a well-known tourist hotel at Lakeland. There the deal would be consummated.

Son-in-law was enthusiastic. So was father-in-law. Brides it was getting cold in Atlanta and a trip to Florida didn't seem a thing to be shunned. Father-in-law promptly agreed to accompany his son-in-law on the expedition.

At Lakeland they met the affable Mr. Spaulding, a most affable gentleman. The property was viewed. It seemed satisfactory to the gentlemen and the price he proposed was undoubtedly satisfactory to the son-in-law. "We can then consider the matter closed," said the purchaser. "But you must run over to my office at Tarpon Springs tomorrow for me to get you up the cash." This, too, was eminently satisfactory.

Office Well Equipped. The purchaser seemed to be in the brokerage line. Certainly his office was equipped with a blackboard with all sorts of calligraphic figures, a telegraph instrument, a cash register and all that sort of stuff.

It evidently wasn't just exactly the day for whoever pays what is won on the market. Everybody seemed to be cashing in. Everybody seemed to be cashing in for big amounts.

The Georgians were introduced to a Mr. Spaulding. There was rugged honesty for you. Why any one could see how his hands just exactly fitted around pool handlers. No slicker ever wore a wool hat like that. As for one who had taken Mr. Spaulding for a populist nominee for the legislature from a rural and prosperous county.

Mr. Spaulding had inside information on a stock. With some small funds he could clean up $100,000 in a few minutes. He knew something—had it. The purchaser, who was connected with the brokerage office and was on the inside had tipped him. But Mr. Spaulding was out of funds.

Nor were the Georgians possessed of any big money. They consulted with the purchaser. "What mattered it if they were without the necessary funds?" asked the genial buyer of orange groves. "You've just sold your grove to me. Write out a check for $100,000 and let it ride. I'm quite confident you'll succeed."

80,000 Check Written. No sooner said than done. The check for $100,000 was written on a telegraph instrument ticket. Some more figures were marked on a check for $20,000. The purchaser had had won. He approached the cashier's window and was about to be paid off. The coin was on the counter.

Here the president of the concern, who appeared up to this time interrupted. "Here you can't do that. I don't know that this check is good money. It's a gray. I'll pay off. If it isn't, you don't get a cent."

He could personally guarantee the check. That didn't make a difference to the president. The check would have to be certified. The Georgians had seen the money. They hurried back. They didn't bring a certified check. They brought the actual money and the money was turned over to Spaulding.

He was paid off in a side room and left the party for a few seconds to look at the blackboard. He was out some little while when the Georgians sought him. He was standing in front of the board with a pained and benighted expression on his rugged physiognomy. He related how he had shot the whole world for nothing. "What did you mean by that?" demanded the orange grove purchaser. "And Spaulding, but I'll have to go to Richmond, Va., to get the money."

Father-in-law and son-in-law awaited in Tarpon Springs. In the meantime there was some little hitch in the orange grove title. Anyhow, the money wasn't paid over. Then came a telegram. "Come immediately to Charleston. I am ready to pay in full Spaulding," it read.

The Georgians couldn't get to Charleston fast enough, but they had a mighty slow time waiting for Mr. Spaulding there. As far as they knew he had never appeared. They hurried back to Tarpon Springs. The orange grove purchase had disappeared. So had Mr. Howard. So had the brokerage office, the blackboard, the telegraph instrument, and everything else.

Mr. Boykin declared Tuesday night that the story of the "Gentle Grafters" had been related to him by victims since he became his inquiry.

C.; Nashville, Birmingham and Atlanta united in saying that they believed business conditions to be much better than is generally thought, and they expect trade to be normal for the coming season.

Sunday Movies Are Advocated By Mayor Key

Sunday Afternoon Entertainments, With Proper Restrictions, Badly Needed in Atlanta, Says Executive.

That Sunday afternoon is the most dangerous of times for the young manhood and young womanhood of Atlanta, was the assertion of Mayor Key in his address Tuesday afternoon, urging the adoption of Sunday movies at the Auditorium, before a gathering of ministers in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium.

Representatives of the Atlanta Evangelical Ministers' association, the committee on church co-operation and the Christian council, before whom the address was made, will discuss the mayor's address at meetings to be held in the near future.

"I am sure," said the mayor, "that no minister familiar with conditions in Atlanta Sunday afternoons, when there are no places of legitimate amusement open to the youth of the city, would vote against Sunday movies."

"There is a great deal of prejudice to be overcome in advocating this matter," the mayor continued. "This prejudice largely due to a lack of understanding of the social and human injustice perpetrated in Atlanta under present conditions."

Legitimate Purpose. Mayor Key asserted that the recent attempt to open the Howard theater on a Sunday several weeks ago, was made for a proper and legitimate purpose.

He explained that opposition to this performance, which would have been for the benefit of Atlanta's poor, was based upon a city ordinance adopted several years ago prohibiting Sunday movie pictures upon the grounds that whereas moving picture establishments then operated ostensibly for the benefit of certain charities, these charities, in fact, received very little of the proceeds of the Sunday afternoon entertainment.

He stated that the ordinance enacted to suppress commercialization of the Sunday movie pictures in the city of charity, had been all that prevented the opening of the Howard theater for the purpose stated. Mayor Key said that the ministers of the city had been unfair in their attitude to the recent proposal to hold Sunday afternoon entertainments at the Auditorium, in not giving the matter proper consideration before announcing themselves as opposed to it.

Taking Wrong Attitude. "If the preachers of the city can't find anything better to do on than little Sunday afternoon entertainments at the Auditorium," Mayor Key declared, "they are taking the wrong attitude toward humanity."

In discussing public school conditions in Atlanta, the mayor said that there are nearly 2,500 more pupils than seats in the public schools. He said that many of the classes in the girls' high school are taught in dark rooms.

"A man would not keep his automobile in the Tech High school, if it were a good automobile," declared Mayor Key, "and yet, he would not be willing for his daughter to be taught at the Girls' High school, if he were placed with all the conditions there."

We have invited the Advertisers Club of the World to hold their convention in our city this year. Oh, gentlemen, what a great advertisement for our city the conditions of our public schools will be to the visitors," the mayor exclaimed. "They are enough to do us in, if they are not bettered."

Favors Emergency Tax. That city taxes, rather than bond issues, should be resorted to in securing funds whereby to build up the schools, was the assertion of the chief executive.

"Since that period directly after the civil war the mayor declared, "there has not been a more important time in the history of the city for rebuilding our schools and effecting other badly needed improvements. I hope that in this attitude I have the support of the ministers of the city."

The meeting was presided over by Dr. W. H. Major, pastor of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church. A movement was adopted to recommend measures recommended by the mayor to the committees of the three organizations at their coming meetings.

Immense deposits of high-grade phosphate rock have been discovered in French Morocco.

SIMPLE APPLICATION THAT DISSOLVES BLACKHEADS
No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes on your face. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of calomine powder from your drugist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of calomine powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Any drugist will sell you the calomine powder and two ounces will be all you will ever need.—(adv.)

Many people have made that resolve for the coming year.

They have made it because they realize that the more encouragement and patronage they give to the concerns that are making good goods here at home, the more prosperity will come to their home section.

Are you one of those who propose to stand by your home manufacturers? If not, get in line. In the future call for and use the goods made here at home by home people.

Keep your money circulating at home—where you will see it again.

O. O. McIntyre Described As O. Henry's Successor

Readers and admirers of O. O. McIntyre's "Bits of New York Life" in The Constitution are legion and many are the letters of appreciation he has received. The following note to him by Miss Rose E. Hubner shows the warm spot he has won in the hearts of the readers of this paper:

"Dear Mr. McIntyre: Will you permit one of your readers 'way down south' to tell you how much pleasure your writings give our home circle? Your graphic pen pictures and your remarkable power of condensation make you the successor of our beloved O. Henry."

"My father, Charles W. Hubner, himself a newspaper man, joins me in the sincere wish that the diamond sparkles of your pen may continue to enrich and brighten your thousands of readers, not only during the new year, but for many years to come. Cordially, "ROSE E. HUBNER."

GRAY NIGHTS

Oh, dreary nights, all athen gray. With never star or moon-lit ray. A-beaming down O'er where the purple mountains tall Stand darkly draped in sombre pall O'er meadows brown.

Oh, bleak winds, wildly whispering To sadly pass, deep murmuring As troubled sighs— As grieving for the days departed. Sobbing, bereft, broken-hearted. Throughout gray nights.

Far upward toward the mullen skies. In vain we peer, with questioning eyes. No light illumines the athen gray. No faintest hue of promised day. No cheering gleam.

IV. What though the stars and moon may hide. And night may hold? If Love abide And Faith be fair, Through gloomy mist, the stars will shine. The golden moon her gold refine And Light be everywhere. —AUGUSTA WALL.

Seen and Heard in Washington

Next Sunday the Anniversary of the First Year of Constitutional Prohibition—Has It "Made Good?"—Sunday "Blue Law" a Groundless, Mythical Agitation That Should Be Stopped at Once.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

Washington, January 11.—(Special.)—Next Sunday, January 17, will be the anniversary of the first year of constitutional nation-wide prohibition.

There are very acute differences of opinion as to whether the eighteenth amendment has "made good" thus far or not; particularly as to whether the enforcement act has proven a success, counting all the extenuating features of an "experimental stage."

There is not one person in a thousand, even in old wet centers like New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and New Orleans, who favor or would vote to return to the open-saloon system.

It is my purpose to discuss in next Sunday's Constitution, fully, impartially and, I hope, instructively, "the first year of constitutional prohibition."

In the meantime permit me to say a word about all of this hullabaloo about "blue Sundays." This whole agitation has reminded me of a tempest in a teapot, accentuated, as it has been, by the fact that the producers who have carried on a needlessly screen propaganda in antagonism to a "purpose" that does not in reality exist.

There is national Sunday bill pending in congress, nor has any proposed national Sunday bill received the endorsement of any reform society. The only Sunday bill pending is one that has been before congress for thirty-two years for the city of Washington, its own affair, and which is not a part of a local society. And it is by no means "blue" or "Puritan," but a milder bill than the average Sunday law in force in forty-seven states.

A national Sunday bill was approved by several Methodist conferences of the United States, where a more American population generally observes the American Sabbath. It forbids work by government employees, and all interstate commerce on Sunday; also bars Sunday papers from mails. Of course it cannot affect Sunday movies or Sunday ball games.

But let everybody take note that this proposed national Sunday bill, which is far ahead of northern public sentiment, has not been endorsed by the International reform bureau or the Lord's Day alliance, or the National Reform association, or the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, or the American Anti-Saloon league, all of which have been charged with united promotion of it.

The hue and cry about a conspiracy to enact a national "blue law."

It is to be hoped that newspapers and screen services will stop singing the praises of this line. It always starts something, and defects, often, the very ends sought or rather stimulates fanatics and cranks to do something or say something in order to invite publicity.

If we all stop talking about it the thing will soon forget about it, and business will be very materially lessened.

I am here to tell you that a great deal of business depression has been brought about by misinformation, universally circulated, about proposed "blue laws."

The slump in the moving picture industry is going to make it hard sledding for many authors this winter. A number of stars in the world of fiction have given up their magazine work as the result of the slump in the moving picture industry.

The movie industry is cutting down production by half and a result the authors will be left with a surplus of material.

Many who know say that "Never again" fifty thousand moving picture players, according to an estimate of The New York Herald, are now out of work and have no prospect of employment until the end of the year.

The moving picture business will never be what it was for the second time around. The industry is a complete shattering off of fabulous salaries and soft berths.

ATLANTA IS READY FOR GAS MEETING

More Than 100 Witnesses Called by City Attorney Mayson to Testify Before Rail Board.

With the hearing before the state railroad commission of the Georgia Railway and Power company's second petition for substantial increases in gas rates set for Thursday, City Attorney James L. Mayson announced Tuesday night that more than one hundred citizens of Atlanta have been summoned as witnesses to aid in the vigorous fight he will wage against the granting of this application.

Most of these witnesses, it is understood, are the participants at mass meetings held during the month of December in protest against the poor gas and street car service, and it is presumed by the city attorney that they will testify against the increases asked by the company. In several sections of the city, however, where the service was alleged to have been poor, considerable improvement has been shown in both street car transportation and gas pressure recently and patrons are more satisfied with conditions, according to the company.

Equipment Added. In addition to this, the second report of the Georgia Railway and Power company made Monday afternoon to the commission, showed that considerable new equipment is being added to the system; that much improvement has been made in the service, and that the corporation is now in position to make more rapid progress in the future.

Claiming that the new gas rate of $1.45 net per 1,000 cubic feet, granted in October, 1920, failed to yield sufficient revenue to pay operating expenses, taxes and depreciation, and that during October it cost the company $1.18 for each $1 received, the corporation November 29 filed a petition for further substantial increases with the railroad commission.

In 1918 the gas rate of the company was raised from $1 to $1.15 per 1,000 cubic feet, and in October this year an increase from $1.15 to $1.45 was granted. The company now asks that for the next 10,000 cubic feet a rate of $2.25 be granted, for the next 10,000 cubic feet a rate of $2.50 be granted, and for the next 20,000 cubic feet, $2.15, and for all over 30,000 cubic feet, $2.10, according to the application. These rates would be subject to a 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet discount for prompt payment.

For College Park, Decatur and East Point territory a rate of $2.50 per 1,000 cubic feet, subject to the same discount is requested. The minimum monthly charge per meter in both territories is set at $1.50 in this petition.

Necessary, Says Company. It is the contention of the company that these increases are made necessary on account of increased cost of materials, labor and equipment. "For each dollar of gross revenue received during the month of October for service rendered," the petition now on file reads, "it actually cost this company $1.18 to manufacture and deliver this gas to the customer."

"We will vigorously oppose the granting of this application of the Georgia Railway and Power company," said Mr. Mayson. "and to aid our fight we have summoned more than 100 witnesses to testify against the granting of the increases." Mr. Mayson said that he would attend the hearing Thursday and he requested that the city's case be in the hands of Mr. Mayson. He was asked if he would attend the hearing Thursday and he replied: "If Mr. Mayson desires my presence, I will attend."

Dr. Masters Resigns Place With Baptist Mission Board

Editorial Secretary, Who Has Served in Atlanta for 12 Years, Accepts Editorship of Western Recorder.

BY LOUIS D. NEWTON.

Dr. Victor I. Masters, for the past twelve years editorial secretary of the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention, tendered his resignation to the board yesterday and has accepted the editorship of The Western Recorder, the Baptist state paper of Kentucky.

The announcement of Dr. Masters' resignation will be read with surprise by the Baptists of Georgia and of the entire south. He is one of the best known religious leaders in North America, and his value as an author and editorial writer is recognized in every community in the entire south.

As editor of the Kentucky paper Dr. Masters will occupy one of the most important positions in the religious life of the south. The location of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, the largest seminary in North America, in Louisville gives unusual opportunity to the Recorder to reflect much of the thought of the leaders of the denomination. This paper has been regarded for many years as one of the leading Baptist weeklies. Dr. J. W. Porter is the retiring editor. The paper is owned by the Kentucky Baptist convention.

Lived Here Twelve Years. Dr. Masters has lived in Atlanta for twelve years. When he came here to assume the editorial secretaryship of the Home board he automatically became the editor of The Home Mission Field, the publication of the home board. Some years later this magazine was merged with The Foreign Mission Journal and is now published in Nashville, Tenn., as the Home and Foreign Fields. But the editorship of this magazine has been one of the lesser phases of the work of Dr. Masters since coming to Atlanta. He has edited all of the literature of the home board, and has authored or co-authored millions of pages of tracts and special articles for the religious and secular press.

Dr. Masters is the author of a number of books, but there are six especially popular as mission study books and as discussions of the practical problems of Christianity. These books are: "The Home Mission Task," "Baptist Home Missions," "Missions in the South," "The Country Church in the South," "The Call of the South," "Making America Christian." The last named book is just from the press and promises to be one of the most widely read publications of the year, as it discusses the present social unrest and its cure.

Held Important Positions. Dr. Masters occupied several prominent editorial positions before he came to the home board. He was for eight years associate editor of The Baptist Courier, South Carolina; for three years an associate editor of The Baptist Press, and for two years an associate editor of The Religious Herald, Virginia. He has held pastorates at Rock Hill, S. C.; Beach Island, S. C., and Peachtree, Va. He is a graduate of Furman University, S. C., and of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, Louisville, Ky.

He will assume his new duties at once and will move his family from Atlanta to Louisville. The board has not announced a successor to Dr. Masters and likely will not in the near future. The place is one of the most important in the work of the denomination, and it will require a careful survey to secure a man fitted to take up the important work. Dr. and Mrs. Masters have many friends in Atlanta who will regret to see them leave the city, and his many friends in the denomination throughout the state will count it a great loss in losing him as a resident of Georgia.

OWNERS OF STOCK IN COTTON BANK ORGANIZE FRIDAY

Following the granting of a charter Tuesday by Secretary of State S. G. T. McLeander, stockholders of the Georgia Cotton Bank and Trust company will meet Friday in the offices of Governor Hugh M. Dorsey for organization purposes. Subscriptions to approximately $1,000,000 of the capital stock have been received and the privilege is given of increasing this capital to $2,000,000.

While no official announcement has been made, it is understood Governor Dorsey will be president of the new institution, as he took the lead in obtaining subscriptions and has been working in its interests for more than one year.

The purpose of the bank is to specialize in aiding cotton growers. The home office of the institution will be in this city.

SEVEN CARS SMASHED IN HAPEVILLE WRECK

Seven cars of an incoming freight train piled up at Hapeville Tuesday morning at 4:15 o'clock, as the result of a broken rail, and halted traffic on the Central of Georgia road until the wreck could be cleared away.

A gasoline tank car was involved in the wreck, and a conflagration was threatened as the liquid drenched the splintered cars. None of the crew was injured.

$75,000 FIRE DAMAGE AT APARTMENT HOUSE

Three Children Have Narrow Escape When West Peachtree House Burns.

The large brick apartment house at 300 West Peachtree, owned by Mrs. William A. Wright, was practically destroyed by fire at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, causing an estimated loss of $75,000. The flames originated in the basement of the building and using the dumb waiter as a flue, soon spread to all parts of the structure.

Very little furniture was saved, on account of the flames spreading so rapidly. The apartment was two stories in front and three in the rear. Mrs. Fannie Cox leased the building, and a number of the occupants suffered furniture and clothing losses.

Mrs. B. D. Edwards, wife of Major B. D. Edwards, military instructor at Emory university, was on the second story of the building at the time of the fire, and was compelled to wrap bedclothing around her 9-month-old son, J. H. Beale Edwards, and make her way through the heavy volume of smoke to the outside. Mrs. James Morrow, Sr., also wrapped bedclothing around her little granddaughter, May, and Mrs. Edwards' other child, B. D. Edwards, Jr., as she carried them from the building.

A company of Tech R. O. T. C. was drilling near the building at the time the fire was discovered and rendered valuable assistance in dragging out furniture and guarding the property after the fire. Only a few people were in the apartment house at the time of the fire. The building and furniture were partially covered by insurance. The home of H. C. Wagstaff, next to the apartment, was slightly damaged by water as the firemen had to fight the flames from its second story.

Youth, Who Robbed Army Recruiting Safe, Given Year

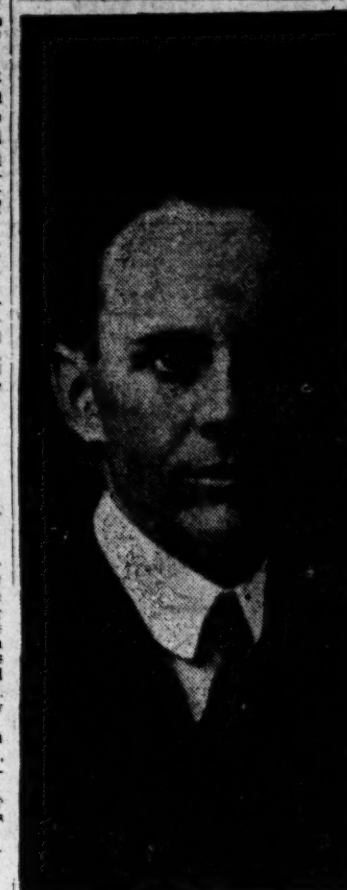

J. C. Davis, alias Lawrence Edward Lough, alias Walter Browning Lough, the youth who blew the safe of the army recruiting office in the Transportation building on the night of December 21, entered a plea of guilty in the United States district court Tuesday morning, and was sentenced by Judge Samuel H. Sibley to serve one year and a day in the federal penitentiary.

Davis was arrested at Toccoa on the day following the robbery, and confessed. He had tried to enlist in the army, but was rejected. While in the recruiting office he noticed the big safe and it was then it occurred to him, he said, to steal some government transportation slips, in order to travel without cost.

When young Davis entered the safe, he secured two official transportation requests, $6.80 in cash, and two treasury warrants payable to the Standard Oil company for the aggregate sum of $6.22.

"Service" was an inspiring one. Other features were a musical program by the telephone society chorus, composed of operators and led by Mrs. Clark, and a minstrel, which included members of the telephone organization. There were also dances, solos and an entertaining moving picture. The next meeting of the society will be held January 25, and will be in the form of a dance at the Capital City club.

Every Young Girl's Ambition—to Make a Perfect Pie

Perfection Depends on the Crust. The Finest Pie Crust is Easy to Make

SOME people say that the making of flaky, delicate and easily digested pie crust "is an art."

Perhaps it used to be. Today even the inexperienced girl can make the finest pie crust. Only two things are necessary. A good recipe—which is given here. And Mazola—which is sold by all grocers.

Mazola is so readily adapted to pie crust making that even those who first try it are assured of flaky, tender crusts.

The liquid form of Mazola, the fact that it is 100% pure, highest grade vegetable oil, is in a large way responsible for the satisfactory results. Crusts are too tough or too short in many cases. This is due to the inaccurate measuring bound to occur when hard fats are used.

Equal to Butter at Half the Price—Better Than Lard

And, quite as interesting as the perfect results, is the economy of Mazola.

You use $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{3}$ less Mazola than of lard or other fat. Because Mazola contains no moisture, whereas lard and other animal fats contain 10% to 13% water.

Those Interested Should Read This Carefully and Understand the Art of Pie Making

Mazola has actually taken the guesswork out of pie crust making. It is indeed satisfying to know your pie crust will turn out tender, delightful-looking and flaky.

Make this demonstration yourself tonight—easily accomplished

Get a can of Mazola from your grocer today and try this recipe for perfect pie crust:

CRISP, FLAKY PIE CRUST

2 cups flour Pinch of Salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Mazola Ice water

Work Mazola well into the flour and salt, add enough ice water to hold together (about $\frac{1}{4}$ cup) and roll out at once. $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon of Baking Powder may be added if desired.

Once you try Mazola for Salade you will prefer it to the finest imported olive oil. The price of Mazola is about half that of olive oil. No customs duty—no ocean freight charges on Mazola.
